DUTY OF DISCLOSURE

Before the trustee enters into a contract of insurance with an insurer, it has a duty to disclose to the insurer every matter that it knows or could reasonably be expected to know, is relevant to the insurer's decision whether to accept the risk and, if so, on what terms.

The trustee has the same duty to disclose those matters to the insurer before they extend, vary or reinstate a contract of life insurance.

However, a trustee's duty of disclosure does not require disclosure of a matter:

- that diminishes the risk to be undertaken by the insurer;
- that is of common knowledge;
- that the insurer knows or, in the ordinary course of its business, ought to know, or
- where the insurer has waived disclosure.

The duty of disclosure continues until we are informed that an application for cover is accepted or declined.

NON-DISCLOSURE

The trustee has a duty to disclose to the insurer, every matter that is relevant to the insurer's decision whether to accept the risk of insurance and if so, on what terms. The trustee will rely on the information provided by you and your employer.

If the trustee fails to comply with its duty of disclosure as a result of relying on information provided by you or your employer and the insurer would not have entered into a contract on any terms if the failure had not occurred, the insurer may avoid the contract within 3 years of entering into it. If the trustee fails to comply with its duty of disclosure that was fraudulently provided by you or your employer, the insurer may avoid the contract at any time.

An insurer who is entitled to avoid a contract of life insurance may within 3 years of entering into it, elect not to avoid it but to reduce the sum you have been insured for, in accordance with a formula that takes into account the premium that would have been payable, if the trustee had disclosed all relevant information to the insurer.

The trustee relies on the information provided by you and your employer. If the insurer refuses to pay an insured benefit to the trustee as a result of non-disclosure or misrepresentation by you or your employer, the trustee will not pay the insured benefit to you
